Dear Friends,

As we ready for the winter season please make your surroundings safe for the anticipated conditions, section 20 of this report offers suggested tips for severe weather. Also check on your neighbours who may need assistance. Being a good neighbor contributes to the wellbeing of the community increasing its quality of life. If you or your neighbours require assistance please contact my office at 416-396-7222, we can guide you to services.

Keeping road safety in mind, I am making available for pick up the City's "Please Slow Down" Signs at my constituency office located on the 2nd floor of the Scarborough Civic Centre, 150 Borough Road. The signs were printed by Transportation Services who wanted to address the significant increase in pedestrian and cyclist collisions during the Fall season; they serve as an effective reminder that speed is a local issue, not all drivers will necessarily slow down. Please be continue to pay attention when crossing the road or when your children are playing outside. If you would like a sign please call my office 416-392-4008 to schedule a time for pick up.

I am pleased to announce that all the approvals for the Bickford Residence (Inn) renovations and extension are now complete and the project is moving forward. On Tuesday November 17, 2015, City of Toronto staff of the Economic Development and Culture Division will host a meeting to provide an overall update on the Guild Park and Gardens site. Further details are available in Section 6 of this report.

On Saturday October 24, 2015 I was pleased to be invited to speak at the Women and Poverty Conference by "We are for Women". The well attended session spoke on the important issue of poverty in our City and how it affects every facet of our lives.

This past week Toronto City Council pass the "Poverty Reduction Strategy". I encourage you to read it. We want a strong Toronto where no one is left behind. Our economy will prosper when our residents are prosperous.

Transportation Services Traffic Study

Information Link

Transportation Services has completed a review and concluded that a westbound left-turn priority feature is not justified at the subject intersection, at this time.

Currently, the eastbound left-turn priority feature is callable by setback detector loop 6:15 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Monday to Friday, and 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Saturday to Sunday. The southbound left-turn priority feature is callable by setback detector loop 3:45 p.m. to 6:15 p.m., Monday to Friday. There are no left-turn priority features for westbound and northbound vehicles.

To identify existing conditions, westbound left-turn queue and delay studies were conducted during the morning peak, off peak, and afternoon peak traffic periods. The results of the studies confirmed that during these traffic periods, no vehicles experienced any cycle delays when completing westbound left-turns. During our review, we noted that the eastbound through traffic movements are moderate and provided plenty of available gaps for the westbound left-turns.

An intersection left-turn phase analysis was also undertaken to determine the need for a westbound left-turn priority feature. The results of the analysis indicate that a westbound left-turn priority feature is not justified during the morning peak, off peak, and afternoon peak periods.

Scouting has never been more active in 7 Oaks... 1st Centenary is quietly meeting at our area schools, training new adult leaders and showing our youth the important of OUT in ScOUTing outdoors!

But we can still grow! Parents everywhere across Canada have seen the importance of reducing screen time and encouraging cooperative play with their youngsters. Scouting fits the bill perfectly!

Medical professionals have warned about obesity. Scouting trims that package neatly!

Business leaders are concerned that the youth of today will not be adequately trained for the demands of tomorrow. Scouts Canada with the funding of major corporations has introduced STEP - the first programme of its kind that shows girls and boys the fun of science and engineering in a play setting. Check it out!

We meet Wednesdays at St Edmund Campion and Highcastle PS. Times and age groups vary so give us a call at 416-724-9215 and explore what Scouts can do for your boy or girl, ages 5 to 26!!

3. Curran Hall Community

<http://www.curranhall.ca/>

The Curran Hall Community Association will be hosting their Annual General Meeting on November 16, 2015 at Curran Hall CC: 277 Orton Park Road 7:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. If you're interested in participating in your community, this is a great opportunity for you to get involved!

Follow up Community Meeting: Planning of Heather Heights Walkway and Playground December 3rd – 7:00 PM at Curran hall Community Centre.

On July 10, 2016 many residents joined me and staff at Heather Heights Park to discuss options for the playground equipment upgrade and new walkway leading to Ellesmere Road and Orton Park Road.

The purpose of the walkway is to address a petition from area residents to safely reach public transit at Ellesmere and Orton Park Road. Residents made several suggestions which were documented by staff, residents were also encouraged to continue to share additional information with City Staff.

After speaking with several residents and collecting information we are ready to have a second meeting to confirm both the playground and walkway location and design. During the July meeting a suggestion to move the park further south was made, since then City Staff have concluded that the surrounding neighbours would prefer that the playground location be maintained in its current location.

The proposed path with lighting is included in 2016 Capital Budget submission to be approved by Council. We are proceeding with design for that additional scope of work this year as well with the playground replacement.

City Staff have advised that the work related to the Poplar Road sidewalk installation is now complete. The sidewalk installation was initiated by a request made by the Coronation and West Hill Community Association.

Transportation Services Traffic Study

Request for an All-Way Stop Control: Coronation Drive at Rowallan Drive

Information Link

Transportation Services have completed a review and have concluded that the installation of an All-Way Stop Control is not justified at the subject intersection at this time.

Currently, northbound traffic on Rowallan Drive is required to stop at Coronation Drive. Coronation Drive is classified as a collector road with a regulatory speed limit of 40 km/h. Rowallan Drive is classified as a local road with a regulatory speed limit of 50 km/h.

To assess existing traffic conditions, Transportation Services Staff conducted an All-Way Stop Control study and collected intersection collision statistics.

The results of the study indicate that the existing traffic control at the intersection of Coronation Drive at Rowallan Drive is providing a safe pedestrian and motorist environment. Therefore, we are unable to recommend the installation of an All-Way Stop Control at this time.

The details of our All-Way Stop Control study and a five-year review of the Toronto Police Service collision records are outlined in the attached technical summary. If you would like to comment on this report please contact my office at 416-396-7222.

Stanley Barracks Gates

The Stanley Barrack Gates welcome visitor into Guildwood as they enter off of Kingston Road and Guildwood Parkway. The gates have been in need of repair. I have been working on this project for some time and can now advise that they will be repaired in 2016 -2017. This project was approved as part of the Canada 150 federal grant program, which means it must be completed by March 31, 2017. The repaired could cost up to $200k.

Should we place artifact in public locations within the community

I have been asked a number of times by community groups if some of the stone artifacts/works not being displayed in the Guild Park and Gardens could be displayed in outdoor public spaces in the Guildwood Community. City Staff have advised that there is a significant amount of surplus stone stored. With proper planning, some of the stone could be made available for placement. The cost to move the stone and create foundations as required will be considered. Further discussion will take place with the community groups.

Art Programming Community Consultation

As part of the revitalization of Guild Park and Gardens including the renovations of Building 191 as an art & cultural centre. You will be invited to attend and share your ideas and suggestions for what type of Art Programming the community will participate in.

The public consultation will take place on Wednesday, December 16, 2015 - 7:00 p.m. at Chartwell Guildwood Retirement Residence, 65 Livingston Road. An invitation will be delivered to your mail box at the beginning of next month.

Guild Park and Gardens Resource Group

Is continuing to meet. Lead by the City Parks Forestry and Recreation Division the meetings are attending by several City Divisions, TRCA, Guild Renaissance Group, Guildwood Village Community Association, Friends of Guild Park and Gardens and myself. The purpose of this committee is to discuss the overall projects taking place on the Guild Park and Gardens site including: paths and trails, access to the lake, the TRCA work, park monuments, onsite building renovations and improvements, park events, Forestry and all the aspects of the site. Our next meeting is scheduled to take place the first week of November.

Events at Guild Park and Gardens Continue

Last month the Monument Walk was opened with a great number of residents attending, the addition to the park is lovely and worth a visit.

The Halloween Haunt was also a great success with many community Children attending to show off their costumes and have some fun.

I am proud to sponsor the Guildwood Village Community Association Annual Candy Cane Hunt scheduled for Saturday December 12. The Friends of Guild Park and Gardens will also host their annual Tree Lighting event.

The Park is continuing to permit out wedding photography as well as filming. A music video was filmed onsite this last month.

Transportation Services Report

No Exit Sign Review: Burnage Court at Toynbee Trail

Information Link

Transportation Services have completed a review and concluded that the installation of a No Exit sign at the above location is justified.

Burnage Court is a cul-de-sac consisting of single residential dwellings. Burnage Court is not a through road and is only accessible to and from Toynbee Trail.

Based on our review, the installation of a No Exit sign at the intersection of Burnage Court and Toynbee Trail will warn motorists that Burnage Court is not a through road. The sign is intended to divert through traffic, and to prevent unnecessary and potentially unsafe backtracking manoeuvres.

As a result of our findings, a service request was initiated for Signs and Markings, Scarborough District to install the appropriate sign to warn motorists that Burnage Court is not a through road. The sign will be installed as soon as scheduling permits.

Should you have any questions or comments regarding our review, please call Allan Burrows, Supervisor, Traffic Operations, at 416-396-7147.

10. Number of Employers Creating Youth Jobs Triples Through City's Partnership to Advance Youth Employment

To date, 129 employers are involved in the program, with 801 young people being hired this year.

A challenge was put out to the private sector to help tackle the very important issue of youth unemployment in Toronto, many business committed to hire and train youth through our PAYE program.

The PAYE program is a joint initiative between private sector employers and the City of Toronto that is successfully connecting youth 18 to 29 years of age from diverse neighbourhoods to job opportunities with some of the city's top employers. At PAYE, unemployed youth are provided with individual guidance and coaching, and are connected to City and community-based services and supports. Qualified candidates are screened and matched to employment opportunities and connect face-to-face with hiring employers. More information about the PAYE program is available at

11. Toronto Taxi Fares To Be Reduced Beginning November 1

Beginning November 1, the base fare to enter a taxicab will be $3.25. This $1 decrease was approved by Toronto City Council at its September meeting.

Although some meters may not reflect the reduction right away, taxicabs must charge this reduced rate to passengers starting November 1.

In addition to the reduction in fares for taxicabs, the City is issuing 100 new Toronto Taxicab Licences (TTLs) to drivers on the waiting list. Toronto Taxicab Licences are owner-operated and wheelchair accessible.

Transportation within the city is an important issue. At the direction of City Council, Municipal Licensing and Standards' staff are researching and developing regulations for all ground transportation service providers including taxis, limousines and other vehicles for hire and will report back to Council in spring of 2016 on the findings. Meeting the City's objectives for accessibility standards will also be part of this report.

The City of Toronto's Parks, Forestry and Recreation division, in consultation with Toronto Water, Transportation Services, City Planning and Economic Development and Culture, will develop a Tree Planting Strategy to inspire action to reach the City's target of 40 per cent tree canopy cover over the next 30 to 40 years. The development of the strategy will also involve consultation with residents, the public, internal and external stakeholders and community partners.

Toronto currently has 26.6 per to 28 per cent tree canopy cover, representing 10.2 million trees. About 40 per cent of these trees are on City lands, with the remaining 60 per cent on private lands. The City will work with community stakeholders to develop a planting strategy that focuses on increasing tree planting and stewardship on private lands.

The public is invited to provide input through an online survey at <http://bit.ly/1GIWkLr> or by attending one of the upcoming public meetings:

- Monday, November 16, Scarborough Civic Centre, Council Chamber, 150 Borough Dr., 6:30 to 9 p.m.
- Tuesday, November 17, Etobicoke Civic Centre, Council Chamber, 399 The West Mall, 6:30 to 9 p.m.
- Monday, November 30, Toronto City Hall, Committee Room 2, 100 Queen St. W., 6:30 to 9 p.m.

14. Our Toronto Police Services (TPS)

In May 2015, the Toronto Police Service began a pilot project on the use of body-worn cameras. Approximately 100 frontline officers are wearing the cameras while performing their regular duties. The project will conclude in March 2016.

The Service is asking for feedback from community members who have interacted with officers wearing body-worn cameras. This will provide a valuable perspective.

Between October 2015 and March 2016, survey packages will be mailed to randomly selected community members who have had contact with an officer wearing a body-worn camera. The package includes a one-page survey and a business reply envelope. The feedback received through these surveys will greatly assist the Service with the evaluation process.

Please download the Toronto Police Service Mobile App for iOS or Android. For more news, visit TPSnews.ca.

TPS unveils online crime-mapping tool

A Toronto crime-mapping tool is now available.

The TPS Maps and Data Portal has been designed to provide mapping and crime information in an interactive tool that allows users to view a map of the city, showing one or all major crime indicators for each week. There are also separate map showing all shootings and homicides.

Please note that the crime maps do not show exact locations of the occurrences. To protect privacy, these pinpoint locations are randomized to offset the exact location of the offence and no personal information is included. We have included hyperlinks to local Divisions and Crime Stoppers as a quick reference so the public can help solve these crimes.

Moving forward, the portal will also include other geospatial information, statistical requests, story maps of events and allow for links to news releases.

Updates will be sent publicly via Twitter (@TPS_Maps_Stats). For more news, visit TPSnews.ca.

Council Highlights

Toronto City Council meeting of September 30 and October 1 and 2, 2015

Council Highlights is an informal summary of decisions made by Toronto City Council. The City Clerk provides the formal documentation at <http://www.toronto.ca/council>.

Taxis, limos and Uber

Council voted to ask staff to report in 2016 on a way to equitably regulate all providers of ground transportation – including taxis, limousines and Uber vehicles – and to begin consulting on regulations that will ensure a "level playing field" for providers and take into account the City of Toronto's accessibility objectives. In addition, Council voted to reduce the starting fare of licensed taxis from $4.25 to $3.25 effective November 1.

Resettlement of Syrian refugees

Council approved a detailed proposal for a Syrian refugee resettlement program in Toronto and asked Mayor Tory to send a letter to the Prime Minister requesting funding assistance for the program in areas such as affordable housing, social assistance and child care. This resettlement initiative is consistent with the Toronto Newcomer Strategy adopted in 2013, which recognizes the City's role in the successful settlement/integration of immigrants and refugees in Toronto.

Review of City of Toronto Act

Council approved amendments that the City will propose to the province of Ontario for consideration as part of the province's current review of the City of Toronto Act, 2006. The City's submission will also include a series of comments from Council involving the Municipal Elections Act on matters such as ranked-choice (also known as ranked-ballot) voting, ward boundaries and candidate spending limits in municipal elections.

Rehabilitation of the Gardiner Expressway

Council approved a plan for the rehabilitation of the Gardiner Expressway from end to end. Council authorized staff to proceed with an alternative financing and procurement/P3 approach, including a request for proposals (RFP) – subject to the federal government approving funding to cover one-third of capital construction costs that are eligible for federal funding. In addition, Council supported arranging for a third-party review of the proposed financial calculations ("value-for-money analysis") for the project. The Gardiner Expressway has been in service for almost 60 years and the concrete deck on the elevated section is near the end of its design life.

Closing the housing gap

Council agreed to urge federal election candidates in Toronto ridings to commit to action on city housing issues. Council wants the federal government to "close the housing gap" by covering one-third of Toronto Community Housing's 10-year capital repair needs, creating a long-term affordable housing strategy, reversing the withdrawal of funds from non-profit and co-operative housing, and reinvesting those funds back into social housing to meet the needs of low- and moderate-income Canadians.

Standards for emergency shelters

Council approved an updated version of the Toronto Shelter Standards. The document, produced with extensive stakeholder involvement, provides expectations for service delivery that will help the City establish consistency in its delivery of shelter services that are client-centred and respectful of client diversity. The City's homeless shelter system consists of about 4,000 shelter beds funded by the City at 59 locations across Toronto.

Review of Paramedic Services

Council called for a consultation process involving the union and paramedics as well as other front-line staff addressing Toronto Paramedic Services' five-year plan and efforts to improve employee engagement and morale. A related report says management anticipates that recent increases to staffing and improvements to equipment, technology, communications and infrastructure, as proposed in the five-year plan, will continue to improve workplace conditions, employee engagement and the morale of frontline staff.

Green spaces for healthy city living

Council adopted recommendations from the Board of Health in support of providing plentiful, diverse, well-maintained green spaces as important features of a healthy city. Presented under the title Green City: Why Nature Matters to Health, the board's recommendations address matters such as Toronto's tree canopy, school green spaces/sports facilities, and investment in green spaces in the City's designated neighbourhood improvement areas.

Increased fines for parking infractions

Council authorized increased fines for vehicle parking and stopping infractions as part of the City's efforts to manage and reduce traffic congestion. The new fine amounts include substantial increases – set at $150 instead of the current $60 – for stopping illegally on sidewalks, in transit areas or too close to intersections, and for parking in live lanes of traffic. Fines for no-parking offences (expired pay-and-display receipt) are increasing from $40 to $50.

Pay-and-display parking

Council approved changes to hourly rates and hours of operation for on-street parking at certain locations that have pay-and-display parking machines. The changes, which follow a Toronto Parking Authority review of the on-street parking program, will align hours of operation more closely with periods of higher parking demand at the designated locations. Council adopted an amendment to the agenda item to address the matter of musicians unloading equipment at music venues on streets affected by the parking-fee changes.

Red-light cameras

Staff received Council's authorization to finalize a contract with the company chosen in a formal bid process to supply, install, operate, maintain and eventually remove red-light camera systems at selected Toronto intersections for the five-year period from 2017 to 2021. The current phase of the red-light camera program runs to the end of 2016. Red-light camera operations have been found to reduce the frequency of red-light running and the severity of collisions.

Progress on shared internal services

Council authorized proceeding with the implementation of shared services for learning/training, insurance, procurement and information technology as part of a shared services project involving City divisions, agencies and corporations. Begun in 2014, the project aims to reduce duplication and costs.

Food services at City Hall

Council supported establishing an advisory committee composed of members of the public with experience in the food industry to explore having a social enterprise food service provide food services in Toronto City Hall. The current lease with City Hall's Café on the Square restaurant will be extended beyond the current expiry date of December 31 until the City has a new agreement in place for food services at City Hall. Council decided to defer pursuing the idea of a restaurant development for Nathan Phillips Square.

Public access to private pools

A motion asking staff to look into the possibility of pursuing agreements with condominium boards for public use of their swimming facilities received Council's support. The motion noted that some condominium buildings have pools with entrances that would enable members of the public to access the pool without entering other private space. As envisioned, this initiative would enhance year-round swimming instruction across Toronto by making the participating condo boards recreation partners with the City.

Maple Leaf Forever tree projects

Council directed staff to give the Toronto Archives complete documentation, including digital photographs, of all Maple Leaf Forever Tree projects. A total of 65 individual projects, 153 unique designs and 4,025 individual items were produced from the wood of the Maple Leaf Forever Tree. The tree, a silver maple at 62 Laing St. that is believed to have been the inspiration for Alexander Muir's song Maple Leaf Forever, was felled by a storm in 2013.

Council approved the terms of reference for a Photo Laureate. An appointment to the new, honorary position is expected in 2016. Similar to the Poet Laureate, who is the City's official champion of poetry and literary arts, the Photo Laureate will be the City's official champion of photography and visual culture. A panel will be convened to nominate a candidate every three years, as is done with the Poet Laureate.

16. Be a flu fighter: Toronto Public Health launches free Flu Vaccine Clinics

Help fight the flu and reduce your risk of getting influenza by attending one of Toronto Public Health's free flu vaccine clinics from October 28 to November 30 at nine locations across the city. The flu vaccine is also available in doctor's offices and more than 450 Toronto pharmacies.

Influenza, also known as the flu, can spread to others before symptoms even appear. Typical symptoms include sudden onset of high fever, chills, sore throat, cough and muscle aches. Other common symptoms include headache, loss of appetite, feeling tired and runny nose. Nausea, vomiting and diarrhea may occur, especially in children.

Every year, millions of Canadians are infected by the flu and more than 12,200 are hospitalized. While most people will recover within a week to 10 days, the flu can make pre-existing medical conditions such as asthma and heart disease worse, and can develop into more serious health problems such as pneumonia, and rarely death.

The following groups of people are known to be at higher risk for developing complications from influenza and should be sure to get the flu vaccine each year: people with chronic health conditions, residents of nursing homes and other chronic care facilities, people 65 years of age and older, children six months to five years old, healthy pregnant women and Aboriginal Peoples.

In addition to getting the annual influenza vaccine, Toronto Public Health recommends:

- cleaning hands frequently
- sneezing and coughing into sleeve, if no tissue is available
- avoiding touching eyes, nose and mouth with unclean hands, and
- staying home when sick.

The flu vaccine is free for people six months and older who live, work or attend school in Ontario. For the full flu vaccination clinic schedule, please call 416-338-7600 or visit <http://bit.ly/1FwZ8rs>. Individuals can also book an appointment online at tphbookings.ca and find information by following our Twitter account @TOPublicHealth and #FluFighter.

19. Property Tax Assessments MPAC

On October 27, 2015, the Municipal Property Assessment Corporation (MPAC) will begin mailing nearly one million Property Assessment Notices to property taxpayers across the province.

Each Notice mailed this fall shows the assessed value and classification of a property based on a January 1, 2012 legislated valuation date, which is in place for the 2013-2016 property tax years.

The last province-wide Assessment Update took place in 2012 when every property owner in Ontario received a Property Assessment Notice from MPAC. During non-Assessment Update years, MPAC continues to review properties as new homes are built, owners renovate, structures are removed and properties change use. The next province-wide Assessment Update takes place in 2016 for the 2017-2020 property tax years.

Although each Notice includes a variety of ways to contact MPAC, constituents may also contact your office. To help answer property taxpayers' questions, an online information kit has been posted on mpac.ca. The kit includes:

- a sample Property Assessment Notice;
- a copy of the Information Insert included with every Notice;
- an Important Information About Your 2015 Property Assessment Notice brochure; and,
- a fact sheet about 2015 Notices.

The key dates for the 2015 Notice mailing are:

October 27, November 2 -6, 2015 Property Assessment Notice delivery dates

November 26, 2015 Amended Property Assessment Notice delivery

December 7-11, 2015 Assessment Rolls delivered to municipalities and taxing authorities

March 31, 2016 Deadline for filing a Request for Reconsideration with MPAC or Appeal
With the Assessment Review Board

Property owners are encouraged to visit aboutmyproperty.ca to confirm their property details and compare their property with others in their neighbourhood. Login information is included with every Notice mailed.

24. Toronto's new Poet Laureate

Anne Michaels selected as Toronto's new Poet Laureate

Internationally acclaimed poet and novelist Anne Michaels has been selected as Toronto's fifth Poet Laureate, pending approval by City Council at its November session.

Anne Michaels, who was born in Toronto, is the author of five acclaimed poetry collections: The Weight of Oranges (1986), which won the Commonwealth Prize for the Americas; Miner's Pond (1991), which received the Canadian Authors Association Award and was shortlisted for the Governor General's Award and the Trillium Award; Skin Divers (1999) and Poems (2000). Michaels was shortlisted for the Griffin Poetry Prize in 2014 for her most recent poetry collection, Correspondences.

Fugitive Pieces (1996), Michaels' internationally best-selling first novel, was the winner of the Toronto Book Award, the Guardian Fiction Award and the Orange Prize for Fiction, among many other Canadian and international awards. Fugitive Pieces was also adapted into an internationally released feature film. Her second novel, The Winter Vault (2009), was a finalist for the Scotiabank Giller Prize, the Trillium Book Award and the Commonwealth Writers' Prize. Her books have been translated into more than 40 languages.

Michaels will receive an annual honorarium of $10,000 for three years, from December 2015 until November 2018, to serve as Toronto's literary ambassador championing local literary arts and wordsmiths. She will also create a literacy legacy project.

The position of Toronto's Poet Laureate was initiated in 2001, with Dennis Lee serving as Canada's first municipal Poet Laureate. Lee embarked on an ambitious program that saw the unveiling of a monument of poet Al Purdy at Queen's Park.

Pier Giorgio di Cicco, who became the second Poet Laureate in 2004, used the role to influence municipal policy in issues that address the urban aesthetic and its relationship to livable, sustainable cities.

Dionne Brand was named third Poet Laureate in 2009. Brand dedicated herself to promoting poetry in the public realm, with poetry displays in branches of the Toronto Public Library.

As the fourth Poet Laureate, George Elliott Clarke participated in many literary and community events throughout the city and created the interactive Toronto Poetry Map (at <http://www.torontopoetry.ca/>) with the Toronto Public Library.

Michaels was nominated by a selection committee in consultation with the literary community. More information about the Toronto Poet Laureate and its programs is available at <http://toronto.ca/poetlaureate>.
